

Contents

Foreword: Multiculturalism, Media, and Money John P. Murray and Farrell J. Webb	ix
Introduction: The Interface of Child Development, Multiculturalism, and Media Within a Worldview Framework Gordon L. Berry	xvii
PART I. Foundations for Multicultural Concepts, Child Development Principles, and an Emerging Worldview	1
Chapter 1. Multiculturalism as a Cornerstone of Being in the 21st Century: A Historical Perspective Ronald Takaki	3
Chapter 2. Children and the Principles of Learning: Implications for Multicultural Development Mesha L. Ellis	17
Chapter 3. Children and Cognition: Development of Social Schema John E. Lochman, Khiela J. Holmes, and Mary Wojnaroski	33
Chapter 4. Ethnic and Racial Identity Development in Children of Color Sha'kema M. Blackmon and Elizabeth M. Vera	47
Chapter 5. Research Methods Related to Understanding Multicultural Concepts Frederick T. L. Leong, Desirée Baolian Qin, and Jason L. Huang	63
PART II. Institutions of Socialization and the Development of a Child's Multicultural Worldview	81
Chapter 6. Multicultural Issues in the Lives of Developing Children in the 21st Century Daren A. Graves and Sherryl Browne Graves	83
Chapter 7. Home and Family in the Development of a Multicultural Worldview Sinead N. Younge and Harriette Pipes McAdoo	101
Chapter 8. Sociopolitical and Community Dynamics in the Development of a Multicultural Worldview Shelly P. Harrell and Miguel E. Gallardo	113

Chapter 9. Changing Drum Rhythms: How Religious Leaders Can Affirm the Value of Multiculturalism in Their Communities Erylene Piper-Mandy and Daryl M. Rowe	129
Chapter 10. Improving Academic Possibilities of Students of Color During the Middle School to High School Transition: Conceptual and Strategic Considerations in a U.S. Context Robert Cooper and Cheong R. Huh	143
Chapter 11. Do Integration and Belonging Go Hand in Hand? Adolescents' Social and Educational Experiences in a Multicultural Learning Environment Evellyn Elizondo, Kimberly A. White-Smith, and Walter R. Allen	163
Chapter 12. The Influence of Peers on the Development of a Multicultural Worldview Cynthia Hudley	175
PART III. Media and the Development of a Child's Multicultural Worldview	189
Chapter 13. Media and Communication Theories: Implications for a Multicultural Perspective Dana Mastro and Michelle Ortiz	191
Chapter 14. The Influence of Print Media on the Development of a Multicultural Perspective in Children Clint C. Wilson, II and Mary J. Wilson	205
Chapter 15. Children's Television Programming and the Development of Multicultural Attitudes Sherryl Browne Graves	213
Chapter 16. Advertisements, Commercials, and the Development of a Child's Multicultural Worldview Jeffrey E. Brand	233
Chapter 17. Children and Television News Broadcasting: An Intercultural Communication Analytical Approach Venita A. Kelley	249
Chapter 18. An Evaluation of the Effects of Movies on Adolescent Viewers Jannette L. Dates, Lillie M. Fears, and Josephine Stedman	261
Chapter 19. The Multicultural Implications of Popular Music Peter Christenson and Tom ter Bogt	277
Chapter 20. Multiculturalism and Music Videos: Effects on the Socioemotional Development of Children and Adolescents Khia A. Thomas, Kyla M. Day, and L. Monique Ward	297

Chapter 21. Electronic Media and Learning Through Imaginative Games for Urban Children	313
Dorothy G. Singer, Jerome L. Singer, and Harvey F. Bellin
Chapter 22. The Influence of Computers, Interactive Games, and the Internet on a Child's Multicultural Worldview	333
Adrienne Shaw and Deborah L. Linebarger
Chapter 23. Multicultural Perspectives, Developing Children, and Access to the Information Superhighway	349
Edward L. Palmer and Jennifer A. Tuttle
Chapter 24. Making Sense of Kids Making Sense: Media Encounters and "Multicultural" Methods	365
Darnell Hunt and Angela James
PART IV. Perspectives on Media Literacy and the Forces That Shape the Media Experiences of Children	379
Chapter 25. Media Literacy, the First 100 Years: A Cultural Analysis	381
James A. Anderson
Chapter 26. Educational Settings and the Use of Technology to Promote the Multicultural Development of Children	411
Kevin Clark
Chapter 27. The Changing Landscape: Media Advocacy for the New Millennium	419
Laurie A. Trotta
Chapter 28. The Role of Parents and Caregivers in Creating a Healthy Multicultural Media Environment for Children	433
Christina Romano Glaubke and Patti Miller
Epilogue: The Realities of Growing Up in a Multicultural and Multimedia World	443
Joy Keiko Asamen
Author Index	447
Subject Index	467
About the Editors	483
About the Contributors	485