

---

---

Contents

---

---

Acknowledgements	xi
1 Introduction	1
Qualitative research	2
Main features of qualitative research	2
Validity	4
The postmodernist challenge	5
Structure of the book	7
2 Getting started and keeping going	9
The 'pain' threshold	9
Moral imperatives and mental conditioners	11
Cranking up	14
Planning	20
Speculative scheme	21
Provisional working plan	22
Reworked plan	22
Final plan	22
Conclusion	23
3 A standard approach to organisation	25
Organising the data	25
Organising by category	26
Organising by theme	31
Organising by concept	32
The generation of categories, themes and concepts	32
The genesis stage	34
The exploration stage	34
The discovery stage	34
The ideas stage	34
The confirmatory stage	34
The getting it right stage	35

Some organising strategies	35
A traditional structure of the whole	37
Title	37
Authors	38
Abstract	38
Introduction	38
Defining the grapevine	39
Analysing the grapevine	39
Conclusion	40
Notes	40
References	40
Appendix	40
Variations on the standard approach	41
4 Alternative forms of representation	43
Literary texts	45
Voices in the text	45
Poetry	50
Performance texts	53
Hypermedia texts	57
Criteria for quality in alternative texts	59
Conclusion	63
5 Style	65
The abuses of rhetoric	65
In components of the text	65
In using the whole of the text: rhetorical spins	67
The uses of rhetoric	71
Writing for different audiences	71
Metaphor	73
Expressive writing	78
A personal style	84
6 Editing	86
The process	86
Insufficient guidance in the Introduction	87
Weak Conclusions	88
Similar material in different sections	88
Theoretical inadequacy	88
Faulty grammar	90
Style	91
Structure	93
Use of transcripts	93
Misuse of examples	94

Evidence	94
Bias	94
Ethics	94
References and literature	95
The 'best shot'	95
Key words	96
Examples of edited texts	96
A text containing transcript	96
A marked up text	98
7 Collaborative writing	100
Research horizons	101
Muddling through	102
Comparative development	102
Refining arguments	104
Enhanced validity	104
Enrichment	107
Mutual support	108
Sustained impetus	109
Style	110
Problems and solutions	110
8 With what do we write?	114
The researcher's self and the writing implement	114
The computer as a writing aid	116
Literature review	118
Data collection	118
Data analysis	119
Presenting reports of qualitative research	120
Communications and collaboration	120
Drafting	120
Editing	121
Publishing	121
Some uses of the pen	122
Ease and economy	122
Identity and cultural uses	123
As therapy	124
As psychological and physical relief	124
As gleaner	124
As a listening and reading aid	125
As a promoter of ideas	126
As an aid in drafting	126
As an enhancer of quality	128
Conclusion	128

9 Writing for publication	130
Academic journals	130
Know your own product	131
Know your journal	133
The psychological set	137
Strategies	138
Assistance	139
A selection of critical comments on journal submissions	140
Books	146
Background knowledge	146
Preparing a proposal	148
Negotiating a contract	153
Strategies	154
Suggested further reading	162
References	165
Name index	175
Subject index	179